

CURRICULUM VITAE

Xieer Dai

August 2019

CONTACT:

Phone in Israel: 00972-548193416

Fax: 86-0755-26495960

E-mail: Xieer.dai@mail.huji.ac.il

PERSONAL DETAILS:

Nationality: Chinese

EDUCATION:

On-going Ph.D. Candidate, the Department of Geography, Hebrew University of Jerusalem
Proposed Thesis Title: Essays in Spatial Econometrics

2017 M.A. in Economics, Hebrew University of Jerusalem (Joint Program with Tel Aviv University)

Thesis Title: Punishment on Inaccurate Message (Advisor: Prof. Elchanan Ben-Porath)

2009 B.S. in Mathematics and Applied Mathematics, Sun Yat-sen University

RESEARCH INTERESTS:

Spatial Econometrics, Economic Geography, Empirical Chinese Economics, Applied Microeconomics,

PUBLICATIONS:

Beenstock M., Felsenstein D and Xieer D (2018) Spatial Econometric Analysis of Spatial General Equilibrium. Spatial Economic Analysis, 13(3), 356-378.

Beenstock M., Felsenstein D and Xieer D (2019) Long-Term Housing Affordability in Spatial General Equilibrium, Revise and Resubmit at Housing Studies

Lu, Tengda, Xieer Dai, Jun Chen, and Ming Dai (2018). "Pricing Industrial Discharge Quota (IDQ): A Model Reflecting Opportunity Cost of Performing Ecological Responsibility." Sustainability 10, no. 6: 2032.

The Local Area Quotas for Industrial Emissions along Reaches of the Pearl River in Guangdong. Chinese Journal of Population, Resources and Environment (CSCI) 2008.Vol.6 No.1: 72-78

A solution to the conflict between promotion of industrialization & protection of water environments in mountainous areas among upper reaches of a river [J] Journal of Mountain Science (CSCI) 2008. Vol.26 No.4: 404-409

WORK PROGRESS:

- Identification of granular units in spatial autoregression model, With Beenstock, Michael
- Spatial labor mobility, evidence from urbanization and agglomeration in China
- Urban planning in growing cities
- Punishment on Inaccurate Message (Submitted as a part of MA Thesis under supervision of Elchanan Ben-Porath)

ACADEMIC HONORS

2019- Dean's fellowship

2018-2019 Scholarship for research students (Professor David Amiran Scholarship)

2017 Small Grant of 2000 Dollar for urban planning from Floersheimer Institute

2011 Awarded Economics Department merit scholarship, providing living stipend for top MA students

2011: Department merit scholarship for M.A. Research students Hebrew University in Jerusalem

2007: First Prize of Excellent Undergraduate Scholarship in the academic year of 2007 Sun Yat-sen University

SOCIAL & WORKING EXPERIENCE

2010 June-now: Simultaneous Translator in High Tech Industry Association of Israel

2010 – now: English- Chinese Translator (Sequential and Simultaneous Translation) Lichi translations

2013 – 2015: Chair of Chinese Student Union in The Hebrew University of Jerusalem

2015 Sep-2017 Sep: Analyst for Fanture Capital Group

PROGRAMMING

Matlab, Eviews, Stata, Python, ArcGIS

LANGUAGE

Chinese (Native) English, Hebrew (Fluent)

REFERENCES:

Michael Beenstock
Professor of Economics
Department of Economics
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
michael.beenstock@mail.huji.ac.il

Daniel Felsenstein
Professor of Geography
Department of Geography
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
daniel.felsenstein@mail.huji.ac.il

Saul Lach
Professor of Economics
Department of Economics
The Hebrew University of Jerusalem
Saul.Lach@huji.ac.il