

Rotem Elinson

Education

- Hebrew University of Jerusalem. Israel 2017- present
PhD Studies, Department of Geography. Advisor: Noam Levin
- The Tel Aviv University, Tel Aviv, Israel 2016
Department of Geography. Advisors: Eyal Ben-Dor, Yuval Gadot
Thesis title: "The physical potential and the subsistence economy in the Jerusalem Hills".
Graduated with honors.
- The Tel Aviv University, Tel Aviv, Israel 2014
B.A., 2014, Tel Aviv university (Geography, Middle East).

Publications

- N. Porat, G.I. López, N. Lensky, R. Elinson, Y. Elgart-Sharon, G. Faershtein and Y. Gadot (2018) Using portable OSL reader to obtain a time scale for soil accumulation and erosion in archaeological terraces, the Judean Highlands, Israel. Quaternary Geochronology

Conference Presentations

- Israel Soil Science convention-Sde Boker, Israel-Session Chair, and poster presentation
- Israeli Association for Cartography and Geographical Information System conference-Tel Aviv university, Israel- oral presentation (2019)
- Environmental History Conference-Tel Aviv university, Israel- oral presentation (2017)
- Israel Soil Sciences Association Conference-Akko, Israel- oral presentation (2017)
- Landscape Archaeology Conference -Hebrew university Jerusalem, Israel- oral presentation (2017)
- Israeli Geographical Association conference- Tel Aviv university, Israel- oral presentation (2016)
- Landscape archeology conference- Uppsala university, Sweden- oral presentation (2016)

Awards and Honors

- David Amiran Scholarship for academic Excellence (2018-2019)
- David Amiran Scholarship for academic Excellence (2017-2018)
- Academic Excellence Scholarship-Advanced School of Environmental Studies (2017-2018)
- "Mifal Hapais" scholarship (2011-2014)